

Part II - Student Misconduct

Any behavior by a pharmacy student that reflects on the student's qualifications or potential to become a competent and ethical professional is within the jurisdiction of the Academic Standing Committee to review. Aside from matters of academic integrity and professional responsibility in the classroom/clinic setting that are handled through the student honor system, the following behaviors constitute ground for discipline of students:

- Conduct that violates professional and or ethical standards; disrupts the operations of the University, College of Pharmacy or clinical training sites; or disregards the rights or welfare of patients, fellow students, college/clinical staff, or other individuals.
- Unlawful conduct or other improper behavior that impairs the student's capacity to function as a healthcare professional.

When presented with an alleged violation of the above standards or when a matter of academic integrity/professional responsibility is referred by the Honor Council, the Academic Standing Committee will hold a hearing to determine whether the alleged misconduct occurred. This hearing will comply with University standards for due process or fundamental fairness in a student disciplinary matter. Students who are found guilty of a violation by a preponderance of evidence will be subject to sanctions imposed by the committee, including but not limited to: warning, required compliance, probation, suspension, and/or dismissal.

The Academic Standing Committee's decisions in matters of student misconduct may be appealed by the President's Student Behavior Review Panel within 10 (ten) days of the decision.
